Materia Medica, Bowdoin College. Dear Sir: I delayed answering the receipts of your paration, until I had an opportunity of witnessing its effects in my own family, or in the families of my friends. This I have now done with a high degree of satisfaction, in cases both of adults and children. I have found it, as its ingredients show, a powerful reme dy for colds, and coughs, and pulmonary diseases.

CHESTER, PA., Aug. 22, 1846.

J. C. Ayer,—Sir: I was taken with a terrible cough, brought on by a cold, in the beginning of last February, and was confined to my bed more than two months. Coughing incessantly night and day, I became ghastly and pale, my eyes were sunken and glassy, and my breath very short. Indeed, I was rapidly failing, and in such distress for breath, that but little hope of my recovery could be entertained.—
While in this situation, a friend of mine, (the Rev. John who favor me with their custom.

duced me to continue its use, and I soon found my health much improved. Now in three months, I am well and strong, and can attribute my cure only to your great medicine. With the deepest gratitude, yours, &c.

Life .- BY BARRY CORNWALL.

If life be ever pleasant,

'Tis in merry hours like this,

And the laugh is running round; When each maiden mouth discloses

Buds of pearl in beds of roses,

The celebrated Lady Hamilton was distinguished above almost every woman of her age, for personal beauty. Her accomplishments were scarcely inferior to her beauty. She was skilled in music and painting; she had exquisite taste, and her features would express every emotion by turns.

The only occasion on which Beckford of Fonthill Abbey threw open his splendid mansion to company was when Lady Hamilton along with Lord Nelson visited it. All that the wealth of the princely ownlamps and torches, and the interior of the apartments was a blaze of jewelry and gold and silver .-Spiced wine, and confectionary in golden baskets, were handed round to the company. A numcrous party was assembled, and Lady Hamilton shone the THE subscriber begs leave to return thanks to his coun- envy of them all. Attired in a rich costume she en-
